"On September 14, 2007, Jasper National Park celebrates its centenary as one of Canada's largest and most stunning mountain national parks. The Whyte Museum of the Canadian Rockies pays tribute to this important event in its presentation of Secret No Longer, Mary Schäffer's Jasper, 1908 & 1911, an exhibition of hand-coloured lantern slides by the intrepid Philadelphia Quaker explorer documenting the Park on the cusp of change from a remote wilderness to a tourist mecca."

Come and experience the history of Jasper National Park's beginning, captured by a renowned explorer and artist of the Canadian Rockies.
